American Community Survey Data Products: Data for 2011

- ACS: 2011, 1yr. ... proposed release 9/20/2012
- ACS: 2009 – 2011, 3yr. ... proposed release 10/2012
- ACS: 2007- 2011, 5yr. ... proposed release 12/2012
- ACS: 2007 – 2011, 5yr. ZIP Code Tabulation Areas (ZCTA) ... will be added to the 5 yr. data release in 12/2012
- No planned release dates for 1yr and 3yr ZCTA data in 2012 ... ZCTA data may only be in the 5 yr. product
- ACS 5 yr. narrative profiles ... will be released in 2013, and will comprise data collected from 2008 – 2012. The reason has to do with the fact that several new questions were added to the survey in 2008

2005-2009 ACS County-to-County Migration Files ... (released 3/28/2012)

- These estimates show how many people migrated from one specific county to another during the course of a year ... the first such numbers published since these data were collected as part of the 2000 Census.
- The 2005-2009 American Community Survey County-to-County Migration Files provide tables for each county in the nation, showing both “inflows” and “outflows.”
- Later this year, a file from the 2006-2010 ASC 5-yr estimates, is planned to be released showing county-to-county flows by demographic characteristics, such as age, sex, and race and Hispanic origin.

2006-2010 ACS American Indian and Alaska Native Tables ... proposed release May 24

- These new data products use ACS data aggregated over a 5-yr period to provide estimates of detailed social, economic, and housing characteristics for many race, tribal, Hispanic and ancestry population at multiple levels of geography.
- Detailed tables on topic such as educational attainment, fertility, nativity, citizenship, income , poverty, and homeownership are iterated for many racial and ethnic population groups.

The Foreign-Born Population in the United States: 2010 ... released 5/10/2012

- This report based on 2010 ACS estimates, examines difference in characteristics among foreign-born region-of-birth groups on a wide range of topics that include household, age, sex, marital status, fertility, period of entry into the United States, naturalization and citizenship status, language, education, labor force, occupation, health insurance coverage, income and poverty.
- The report also compares such characteristics by the foreign-born and native-born populations.

Schedule of New Estimates

Incorporated place and minor civil division population	7/1/2009	6/2012

Population Estimates for Counties, Metropolitan and Micropolitan Areas: July 1, 2011 (released 4/05/2012)

- These estimates are the 1st look at population growth or decline for these areas since the 2010 Census counts were released a year ago.
- Solid growth in Texas continues ...
 - Out of 5 large metro areas (2011 populations of at least 1 million) among the 20 fastest growing from 2010 to 2011, 4 of them were in TX:
 - Austin (second)
 - San Antonio (16th)
 - Dallas-Ft. Worth (17th)
 - Houston (18th)

Population Estimates for Counties, Metropolitan and Micropolitan Areas: July 1, 2011 (continued)

- Dallas-Ft. Worth and Houston added more people between 2010 and 2011 than any other metro area (155,000 and 140,000, respectively.)
- Among county growth, the top 10 numeric gainers were all in the Sun Belt, with 4 in TX: Harris, Dallas, Bexar, and Tarrant.
- Houston metro area surpassed the 6 million mark between 2010 and 2011.
- Among the 50 fastest-growing counties from 2010 to 2011, Texas contained more of these counties than any other state, with 12.

National, State and County Population Estimates by Demographic Characteristics: July 1, 2011 (released 5/17/12)

- Highlights:

- 50.4 percent of our nation's population younger than age 18 were minorities as of July 1, 2011. This is up from 49.5 percent from the 2010 Census which was taken April 1, 2010. A minority is anyone who is not single-race white and not Hispanic.
- Texas is one of 5 majority-minority states in 2011: Texas (55.2 percent minority population)
- More than 11 percent (348) of the nation's 3,143 counties were majority-minority as of July 1, 2011
 - Maverick County, Texas had the largest share (96.8 percent) of its population in minority groups, followed by Webb County, Texas (96.4 percent)

National, State and County Population Estimates by Demographic Characteristics: July 1, 2011 (continued)

- Nationally, the most populous minority group remains Hispanics, who numbered 52 million in 2011.
 - Starr County, Texas --- on the Mexican border – had the highest share of Hispanics (95.6 percent)
- African-Americans were the second largest minority group in the United States, at 43.9 million in 2011 (up 1.6 percent from 2010).
 - Texas had the largest numeric increase since 2010 (84,000).
- Non-Hispanic White Alone
 - Texas had the largest numeric increase in this population group since 2010 (80,000).

Census Bureau Reports Foreign-Born Households are Larger, Include More Children and Grandparents

The U.S. Census Bureau reported today that foreign-born households are, on average, larger than native households, have more children under age 18, and are more likely to be multigenerational.

The average size of foreign-born households (3.4 people) was larger than that of native-born households (2.5 people). About 62 percent of foreign-born family households included children under 18, compared with 47 percent of native-born households. Multigenerational households, with three or more generations living together, were more common among foreign-born (10 percent) than native-born (5 percent) family households.

Among the regions of birth, family households with a householder born in Latin America and the Caribbean were the most likely to include children under 18 (70 percent), followed by Africa (67 percent), Oceania (60 percent) and Asia (56 percent). Families with a householder born in Northern America or Europe (both less than 40 percent) were less likely to include children under 18 than native-born households. (Oceania consists of Australia, New Zealand, Melanesia, Micronesia and Polynesia; Northern America consists of Canada, Bermuda, Greenland, and St. Pierre and Miquelon.)

A family household consists of a householder and one or more people living together who are related to the householder by birth, marriage or adoption. About 77 percent of foreign-born households were family households, compared with 65 percent of native-born households.

These data come from The Foreign-Born Population in the United States: 2010, a new report about the characteristics of the nation's foreign-born population from the 2010 American Community Survey (ACS). The report also examines differences among foreign-born region-of-birth groups on a wide range of topics that include age, sex, marital status, fertility, period of entry into the United States, naturalization and citizenship status, language, education, labor force participation, occupation, health insurance coverage, income and poverty.
